LOOMIS FAMILY

From "The Loomis Family in America"
By Elias Loomis, L.L.D.
1875

Revised by Elisha S. Loomis, Ph.D.
1908

Vol. I.- P.53

This narration has naught to do with lords, dukes, earls, or gentlemen of leisure; now with courts and castles; it is an account of "plain practical people," such as of whom Lincoln said, "God must love them, for he made so many of them."

America."

"From our Ancestors come our Names
But from our Virtues our Honors."

Joseph Loomis, son of John and Agnes Loomis, probably born before 1590, in England; married in Messing County, Essex, England, June 30, 1614, Mary White, baptized Aug. 24, 1590, --- d. Windsor, Conn. Aug. 23, 1652. Mary White was the daughter of Robert and Bridget (Allgar) White, of Messing County, Essex, England, who were married June 24, 1585.

Joseph Loomis was a woollen draper in Braintree, Essex, Co., England; he sailed from England (London), April 11, 1638, in the ship "Susan and Ellen"; he arrived at Boston July 17, 1638, tarrying about one year at Dorchester, Mass. It is mentioned in the town records of Windsor, Vol. I., that on the second of February 1640, he had granted him--- twenty-one acres adjoining the Farmington river, on the west side of the Conn. river; this twenty-one acres including the site of the first English settlement made in Conn., also several large tracts of land on the east side of the Conn., partly from the town and partly by purchase. He therefore, probably came to Windsor --- in 1639 --- and in company with the Reverend Ephraim Huet, who arrived at Windsor Aug. 17, 1639. He brought with him five sons, all of whom were freemen Oct. 7, 1669, and three daughters. His house was situated near the mouth of Farmington river, on "The Island." He died Nov. 25, 1658.

ORTHOGRAPHY OF THE NAME LOOMIS

Nearly all the persons in the United States, known by the name "Loomis," are descended from Joseph Loomis, who settled in Windsor, Conn., 1639. This name in the lapse of time has undergone various changes of orthography. Something more than a century it has, with few exceptions, been spelled Loomis. Previous to that time, the more common spelling was Lomis. On the oldest gravestone at Colchester, the name is spelled Lomis. On the early town records at Windsor, the name generally is spelled Lomys, but on the oldest gravestone of any member of this family now known to exist anywhere in America the name is spelled Lomas. This is the gravestone of Deacon John Lomas, who died in Windsor, September 1, 1688.

In England, the name is sometimes spelled Lummas, Lommas or Lomas. The spelling now well established in England is Lomas, while the spelling adopted in the United States is Loomis.

THE LOOMIS INSTITUTE

Of the 26,000 people who came down to this land of ours in the great Puritan exodus from England from 1620 to 1640, was one -- our ancestor, Joseph Loomis, who settled in 1639, at Windsor, at the meeting of the waters, on "The Island."

This ancient home has been in perpetual possession of his descendants, coming down in unbroken, regular succession to Epaphras Loomis, (No. 2474); he sold it to Rev. George Loomis, (No. 5476), who finally sold it to Col. John Mason Loomis, (No. 2537) ... It is but six miles north of the beautiful city of Hartford, ... What could be more fitting to perpetuate the family name than that this "Ancestral home on the Island" should become the home of the Loomis Institute, thus preserving "The Hearthstone" of our ancestor, Joseph Loomis.

"In 1874 James C. Loomis, Hezekiah B. Loomis, Osbert B. Loomis, H. Sidney Hayden and his wife, and John Mason Loomis were constituted a corporate body by the name of "The Loomis Institute."

There was deep and tender pathos, a great sorrow written within the lines of this appeal (a petition to the General Assembly of Conn., for an act of Incorporation.) Children were not born of some of the marital alliances of these good people; and children born of others died in the bloom and promise of youth. With none to bear their names in direct lineage and inherit their fortunes, their thoughts turned to the nurture and education of the children of their kinsmen, and others upon whom might fall the benediction of their good deeds.

DEFINING THE PURPOSE OF THE INSTITUTE.

"This Institution shall be established for the free and gratuitous education of all persons of the age of twelve years and upwards to twenty years in all departments of learning --- and for maintaining and supporting, and supplying all those whose condition and circumstances may require it, with all those things which may be deemed necessary and proper for the comfort and advancement in useful knowledge, so far as the funds of the Institute will permit. --- Selection from the applicants shall be made, first from those belonging to the state of Conn., next from those deemed most worthy, without regard to state or nation."

Ellsworth

From "Genealogy and Family History of the State of Connecticut."

Vol. II.-P. 717

The surname of Ellsworth is derived from that of a small village a few miles from Cambridge, England; a village on a small stream once remarkable for its eels; hence the name of the village, "a place of eels."

Sergeant Josias Ellsworth, the immigrant ancestor, was the son of John Ellsworth, and was said to have been a descendant of Sir John Ellswroth, in the time of Edward III, who resided in Cambridgeshire Eng. This conjecture is derived from "Mr. John Ellsworth who was a respectable merchant in London, early in the 19th century, who stated a tradition in his family, which had long resided in Youkshire, that a member of it had formerly removed to foreign parts; that he was a young man when he left and never returned." He was born in 1629, and was in Conn. as early as 1646. In 1654 he bought a house and lot in Windsor, south of the Rivulet, near the old mill, on what was afterward known as the Gillett place. He was a Juror in 1664, and was admitted a freeman May 21, 1657. His wife was admitted to the church in Windsor in 1663. He died 8-20-1689. His estate was valued at 655 pounds. He was married 11-16-1654, to Elizabeth Holcomb, who died 9-18-1712.

Their children were:

1- Josias	b. 12-12-1655

HENDERSON - WOODS ANCESTRY

Henderson-Woods Ancestry

W O O D S

The Woods family herein described is of Scotch descent, the earliest ancestor of whom record has been found in the present research being John Woods, of "Anglo-Scotch-Irish Extraction," "son of an English Trooper, "who came to Ireland with Oliver Cromwell's army in 1649. John Woods was born in 1654, and, about 1681, married Elizabeth, daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth (Parsons) Worsop. Elizabeth Parsons was the daughter of Richard and Letitia (Loftus) Parsons. Letitia Parsons was a descendant of Right Reverend Edward Loftus, of Levenhead, her ancestral line being as follows:

Right Reverend Edward Loftus of Levenhead, had a son,

Adam Loftus, born in 1535, in Yorkshire, England, made Archbishop of Armagh, and, later, Archbishop of Dublin and Lord Chancellor of Ireland by Queen Elizabeth. By his wife, Jand Purdon, he had a son, Sir Adam Loftus, who married Jane Vaughn, and had by her his daughter, the above-named Letitia Loftus, mother of Elizabeth (Parsons) Worsop, and grandmother of the above Elizabeth (Worsop) Woods, wife of John Woods, who was born in 1656. John Woods was of County Meath, Ireland.

His Father-in-law, Thomas Worsop, was of Dunshanlin
58-A Castle, Meath.

Five of the children of John and Elizabeth(Worsop) Woods, four sons and a widowed daughter, emigrated from Ireland, "near the close of the first quarter of the Eighteenth Century," and settled in Pennsylvania, some of them later removing to Virginia, where they 58 settled near the base of the Blue Ridge. These children were as follows:

- i Elizabeth Woods, 58 a line of descent from whom will be given herein subsequently.
- ii Michael Woods, 58 of whom subsequently.
- iii James Woods. 58
- iv William Woods. 58
- v Andrew Woods.

Michael Woods, above, eldest son of John and Elizabeth (Worsop) Woods, was born in the North of 58 Ireland in 1684. He married Mary Campbell, "of the Scottish Clan Campbell," of Argylshire, Scotland, 58 about 1704 or 1705. She died about 1742. With his three brothers, James, William and Andrew, and his widowed sister, Elizabeth, Michael and Mary(Campbell)
Woods emigrated to America, first settling in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, where they remained for awhile, later removing to what was then Goochland County,

Virginia, now Albemarle County, and settling at the base of the Blue Ridge, near the pass through the mountains later called "Woods' Gap," and still later "Jarman's Gap," on a tract of land called Mountain Plains, and later Blair's Park.

Michael Woods and his son-in-law, William Wallace, had grants for more than thirteen hundred acres on Lickinghole, Mechum's River and Beaver Creek, "embracing the present Mechum's Depot and Blair Park (the old Woods homestead)."

The above-mentioned land grants to Michael Woods and his son-in-law William Wallace, were made in 1737, and it is stated that "at the same time Michael Woods.. purchased the 2,000 acre patent of Charles Hudson on Ivy Creed." One of the grants to Michael Woods is given in abstract below:

"George the second-- of Great Britain, France and Ireland, to all to whom these presents shall come, greeting: Know ye, that..for... the sum of five shillings.. we have given granted and confirmed .. unto Michael Woods one certain grant or patent of land containing four hundred acres, lying in the County of Goochland on both sides of Lickinghole Creek, a branch of Mechum's River

In witness whereof, we have caused these our

Letters Patent to be made; Witness our trusty and beloved Wm. Gooch, Esquire, our Lieutenant Governor and Commander in chief of our said colony and dominion at Williamsburg, made under the seal of our said colony the 4th day of June, one thousand seven hundred and thirty-seven, in the fourth year of our reign. (Signed)
 William Gooch."

The following document, given in abstract, concerns Michael Woods and members of his family. It is from Augusta County, Virginia, records.

"1737.-- James Cathey to Samuel Smith, debtor: September 22, 1736.--... William Robinson's account, debtor to Samuel Smith, 1739. April 4, one almanac. Richard Wood's ditto, ditto, 1738... that about eight years ago, at his own house, he saw Smith, the plaintiff, and Robert Buchanan, the then sheriff of Lancaster County, and Smith acknowledged having attached and sold Beatey's (sic.: The compiler.)⁶⁰ effects and received satisfaction."

The above "Pextunk," or "Peshtank," as it appears¹⁶ in one record given herein, was Paxtank, one of the original townships of Lancaster County, Pennsylvania.¹⁶

The following record, also from Augusta County, Virginia, archives, probably concerns Michael Woods, Junior, who appears below, as its date is after the death of Michael Woods, Senior, of this Biography.

"...Michael Woods, Witness from Albemarle. Samuel Woods, Witness from Albemarle....George Henderson⁶¹ exempted from levy."

Michael Woods, Senior died in 1762, and his remains are buried about one hundred yards from his dwelling at⁵⁸ the present Blair's Park, Virginia. It is believed that he was the first settler in the western part of Albemarle County, Virginia.⁵⁹ His wife, Mary (Campbell) Woods, died⁵⁸ probably about 1742. Michael Woods' will was dated November 24, 1761, and probated in Albemarle County, in⁵⁸ 1762. It mentions three sons and three daughters, -- Archibald, John, William, Sarah, wife of John Lapsley of Rockbridge; Hannah, wife of William Wallace; and Margaret, wife of Andrew Wallace.

The following quotation concerns the old Woods homestead in Albemarle County:

"The old Michael Woods place, Mountain Plains, at the mouth of Woods' Gap, descended to his son, William who sold it to Thomas Adams..(Another record given herein gives this name as "Francis Adams." The Compiler.)⁵⁹ ...of the Pasture District of Augusta County. Adams, who died in 1778, made title by his will to this and other.. land he had bought to Judge Blair--'To my.. friend John Blair, Esq.,... all the lands he purchased of me in Albemarle County, known by the name of Mountain Plains, for which he has...paid me.' From him the place has.. acquired the name of Blair Park. Judge Blair devised it to his two daughters, through whom it came to their two sons, James P. Henderson, and John Blair Peachy. In 1831 Peachy sold his interest to Henderson. After Henderson's death, in 1835, it passed into other hands."⁶²

A description of the settlement of this region by Michael Woods and members of his family is here given:

"Nineteen patents were taken out in 1737. Michael Woods, his son Archibald and his son-in-law, William Wallace secured grants for more than thirteen hundred acres on Lickinghold, Mechum's River and Beaver Creek, embracing the present Mechum's Depot and Blair Park.

The same day Michael Woods purchased the two thousand acre patent of Charles Hudson on Ivy Creek." 62-A The writer quoted states that there is a tradition that the Woods settlement was made at the mouth of Woods' Gap in 1734, and that doubtless the family lived there for a time before the purchase of the land. 62-A

[illegible]

Children of Michael and Mary (Campbell) Woods:

i * William Woods, was born at Castle Dunshauglin, Ireland, in 1705. He "took an active part in the Colonial wars," and had the rank of Colonel. Another writer cited herein, states that he was born in 1706 and that he succeeded his father at Mountain Plains, the old homestead. He mortgaged his property twice and finally sold it to Francis Adams of Augusta County. He married Susanna, daughter of Peter and Elizabeth(Woods) Wallace, his cousin and had children, Adam, Michael, Peter, John, Andrew, Archibald, William, Sarah, who married---Shirkey; Susan; and Mary, wife of George Davidson. All his children, except William, emigrated to Kentucky, and some later went to Tennessee and Missouri. Archibald was a trustee of the towns of Boonesboro and Milford, Kentucky, and died in 1838, aged eighty-nine. William remained in Ablesmarle County, where he lived on Beaver Creek, about a mile from Crozet, and died in 1836, aged ninety-two.

ii Magdalene Woods, born in 1706, died in 1810, married first, John MacDowell; second, Benjamin Burden, Junior, third, John Bowyer iii Michael Woods, Junior, born in 1708, died in 1777. He married Anne--- and lived near Ivy Depot, removing in 1773 to Botetourt County, where he settled on the James River, near Buchanan. He had eleven children, among them Samuel and William, the latter of whom removed to Livingston County, Kentucky, where he died in 1819.⁵⁹ The former may be the Samuel Woods of "Rockfish Settlement," Amherst County, whose will, dated 1781, was witnessed by Alexander Reid.^{62-B}

iv Hannah Woods, born in 1710, married William Wallace, her cousin, son of Peter and Elizabeth (Woods) Wallace.

v John Woods, of whom subsequently.

vi Margaret Woods, of whom subsequently.

vii Richard Woods, born in 1715, died in 1779, married Jennie-----⁵⁸

viii Archibald Woods, born in 1716, died in 1783, married Isabella---⁵⁸ With his brother, John Woods, he was an executor of their father's will, and in 1767 joined with his brother in conveying nearly seven hundred acres on Ivy Creek to Reverend James Maury.⁵⁹

In 1771 he purchased land in Boretourt County, on Catawba Creek, now Roanoke, where he removed.⁵⁹ He died in 1783, leaving children, James who removed to Fayette County, Kentucky; and John, Archibald, Andrew and Joseph.⁵⁹ "Joseph died in Roanoke about 1840, devising half of his property to the Presbytery of Montgomery. The descendants of John are still citizens of that County, his grandson, John W., being the present (1901. The compiler.) Judge of Roanoke City, and James P. its present (1901. The compiler) Mayor."⁵⁹

ix Martha Woods, born in 1720, died in 1790, married Peter Wallace, Junior, her cousin, son of Peter Wallace, Senior, and his wife, Elizabeth (Woods) Wallace.⁵⁸

x Andrew Woods, born in 1722, died in 1781. He lived "at the foot of the Blue Ridge, near Greenwood Depot."⁵⁹ He owned nearly fourteen hundred acres, which he sold in 1763 and removed to Botetourt County, where he lived near Buchanan and was a magistrate and sheriff.⁵⁹
He married Martha, daughter of Robert Peage of Augusta County. He died in 1781. Children, James, Robert, Andrew, Archibald, Elizabeth, Rebecca, Mary, and Martha.⁵⁹

xi Sarah Woods, married Joseph Lapsley.⁵⁸

Colonel John Woods, third son of Michael and Mary (Campbell) Woods, was born in Ireland, February 19, 1712 (Old Style)⁵⁸ He came as a boy with his parents to Pennsylvania, and removed with them later to Albemarle County, Virginia.⁶³ His wife was Susannah, daughter of Reverend James Anderson, a Presbyterian minister, who was a resident of Pennsylvania, where John Woods returned at the time of his marriage, after which he brought his wife back to Virginia.⁶³ They lived on Ivy Creek, a branch of Mechum's River, in Albemarle County,⁶³ near the present Mechum's Depot.⁶³

*John Woods was "a Captain in the Colonial Army and on Nov. 27, 1766, was commissioned a Major by Governor Fauquier." On June 11, 1770, he was commissioned by Lord Boutitourt, "Lieutenant and Governor-General and Commander-in-chief of the Colony and Dominion of Virginia," as Lieutenant-Colonel of the Albemarle County Militia.⁶³ Thomas Jefferson was Colonel of that body.⁶³ "He held a like commission from Governor Nelson,"⁶³ dated December 10, 1770.⁶³ His military company was called the Rangers.⁶³ Another writer cited herein states that he was called "Captain".. from 1759 to 1766. In the latter year.. Major.. in 1770 he was commissioned Lieutenant Colonel"⁶⁴ The following record probably refers to him: It is from Augusta County archives.

n "April 14, 1758....Court of Claims..claim for provisions delivered to John Woods, a Captain of a Company of Rangers....."

Robert Campbell, for dieting Capt. Wood's Soldiers ...for provisions delivered to John and William Woods, Captains of Rangers....For provisions to John Wood, a Militia Captain..."⁶⁵

The following quotation concerns Colonel John Woods: "John lived on Mechum's River not far above the Depot of that name. In 1745 he was sent as a Commissioner to prosecute before the Presbytery of Donegal in Pennsylvania, a call which the churches of Rockfish and Mountain Plains had given to Rev. John Hindman. He is the only one of the original family the dates of whose life are certainly known. He was born February 19th, 1712, and died October 14th, 1791. He married Susanna, daughter of Rev. James Anderson, whom he knew as a child in Pennsylvania, and whom years later he returned to woo as his wife.⁵⁹"

John Woods made his will September 12, 1791. His sons, James and Michael were the executors, and it was witnessed by Menan Mills, William H. Shelton and James Kinsolving.⁶³ He was buried in the old family burying ground at the present Blair's Park.⁶³ His tombstone is inscribed: "Here lies the body of John Woods, son of Michael Woods and Mary Campbell, who was born February 18, 1712, and departed this life October 14, 1791."⁶³

The children of Colonel John Woods and his wife, Susannah (Anderson) Woods were as follows:

- i James Woods, born in 1743, died in 1823, who married Mary Garland.⁶³
- ii Mary Woods, born in 1746, died in 1828, She married John Reid of "Nelson County,... formerly of Amherst." (Nelson County was formed in 1808 from Amherst,⁷ which was formed in 1761 from Albemarle County.)⁸ They emigrated to Madison

County, Kentucky, about 1790-5, and settled on Otter Creek, near Richmond.⁶⁶

- iii Michael Woods born in 1748, died in 1826, married Hettie Caruthers.⁵³
- iv Suity (or Suita) Woods, of whom subsequently.⁶³
- v Sarah Woods, born in 1757, died in 1770.
- vi Anna Woods, born in 1760, married Johathan Reid.⁶³
- vii John Woods, Junior, born in 1763, died in 1764.⁶³
- viii Susannah Woods, born in 1768, married Daniel Miller.⁶³

Suity Woods, the fourth child and second daughter of Colonel John and Susannah (Anderson) Woods, was born February 29, 1752.² She married, in Albemarle County, Virginia, Samuel Reid of Nelson County,⁶⁷ September 9, 1779.² "They emigrated to Ky., and settled on.. Paint Lick Creek, in Garrard County, in 1782, and lived and died.. near old Paint Lick Church."⁶⁷
She died at Paint Lick March 26, 1823, and was buried in old Paint Lick Cemetery.²

A line of descent from Margaret Woods, sister of Colonel John Woods, above, and daughter of Michael and Mary (Campbell) Woods, is given below:

Margaret Woods, sixth child and third daughter of her parents, was born in Ireland, in 1714. She married

Andrew Wallace, son of Peter Wallace, Senior, and the latter's wife, Elizabeth Woods, who appears above herein as the daughter of John and Elizabeth (Worsop) Woods, and sister of Michael Woods, the father of Margaret Woods of this biography. As has been stated herein, Elizabeth (Woods) Wallace came with her brothers to America as a widow, her husband, Peter Wallace, having died in Ireland. She is stated to have brought with her, at least six children.

She was born about 1682, or before, and married Peter Wallace about 1705. After his death in Ireland, she accompanied her brothers, Michael, William, James and Andrew Woods, to America, first settling in Pennsylvania, where she remained ten or fifteen years, then removing to Virginia, where she lived in Rockbridge County, "just across the Blue Ridge from where her brother Michael and two of her sons lived." Peter Wallace, her husband, was a "Scottish Highlander," "who spent the latter part of his life in Ireland." It is believed that he was born about 1680, and died some years before the emigration of his widow to America. Three of their sons married their cousins, daughters of Michael Woods. One writer states that "three brothers named Wallace came to Virginia with Michael Woods as his sons-in-law about 1734, Peter, Andrew and William. Peter married Martha Woods and settled in Rockbridge County. He was the father of *Adam and *Andrew Wallace, who displayed great gallantry in the battle of Guilford Court House, the latter yielding up his life on that field. The other brothers remained in Albemarle. Andrew Wallace married Margaret Woods. His home was near Ivy Depot, on part of the Charles Hudson entry, where Charles Harper afterward resided. He died in 1785. His children were Michael, Samuel, Elizabeth, the wife of William Briscoe, Mary, the wife of Alexander Henderson, (It is believed the name Mary should be Sarah as mentioned later herein. L.T.A) Hannah, Susan, the wife of Thomas Collins, Margaret, the wife of William Ramsay, and Jean, the wife of a Wilson. All these families except the Ramsays emigrated to the West, some probably to Western Virginia, but most of them to Kentucky." 71

An emigrant to America, who, like this family, first settled in Pennsylvania, and who perhaps was related to them, was Robert Wallace, born in 1712, who settled in "the Irish Settlement," in Northampton County, Pennsylvania, removing later to Hanover Township, Dauphin County, 72 which was formed from Lancaster County, Pennsylvania.

The following records from the archives of Augusta County, Virginia, probably concern Peter Wallace,

... ..

Junior, who married his cousin, Martha Woods, as stated above herein.

"...1765: Processioners Returns... for Peter Wallace, .."

...Peter Wallace's death abates suit."

Peter Wallace's will was filed in Rockbridge County,

Virginia, September 5, 1786, and mentioned wife, Martha; sons, John and Samuel; and daughters, Jean, Susannah, and Eliza Gilmore.

The following abstracts of wills are probably those of the sons of Peter Wallace, Junior, and his wife, Martha (Woods) Wallace, namely, *Adam and *Andrew Wallace, mentioned above herein.

The will of Adam Wallace was filed in Rockbridge County, Virginia, May 2, 1781. It mentions his brothers, Samuel Wallace and John Wallace.

The will of Andrew Wallace, also filed in Rockbridge County, Virginia, on July 3, 1781, mentions sister, Janet Wallace; sister, Susannah Wallace; brother, Samuel Wallace; grandson, Andrew Wallace; mother, Martha Wallace; brother, Adam Wallace; and brother-in-law, John Gilman.

The above family of Rockbridge County descended from Peter Wallace, Junior, and his wife, Martha (Woods) Wallace; and the Adam Wallace and Andrew Wallace, abstracts of whose wills appear above, were their sons, both being soldiers in the battle of Guilford Courthouse, as has been stated herein.

Peter Wallace, Junior, above, was the brother of Andrew Wallace, who married Margaret, daughter of Michael Woods, she being his cousin.

The following records concern Andrew and Margaret (Woods) Wallace, who are ancestors of the line traced herein; and their descendants:

Andrew Wallace, son of Peter Wallace, Senior, and his wife, Elizabeth (Woods) Wallace, as stated above, lived near the present Ivy Depot, in Albemarle County, Virginia. He was surveyor of the road to Mechum's River Ford, "Archibald and Michael Woods, Jr., to assist in clearing it-- and William Woods from Mechum's River to Michael Woods' Gap on the Blue Mountains." ⁸⁰

It is stated that there was another family of the same name of Wallace in Virginia and Kentucky, "the American head of which was Michael Wallace, M.D.,... son of William Wallace, and, born in Scotland in 1719." ⁷⁰

This family lived in King George County, Virginia, where the above "Michael Wallace, M.D.," died in 1767. ⁷⁰ (It appears to the compiler that this family was probably related in some way to the one herein traced, from the similarity of Christian names, and the fact that they were both of Scotch descent.)

The children of Andrew and Margaret (Woods) Wallace were as follows:

- i Michael Wallace, born in 1752, in Albemarle County, Virginia. He married Jane Bratton, and emigrated to Madison County, Kentucky, as early as 1790. ⁶⁹

- ii Samuel Wallace
- iii Elizabeth Wallace, who married Captain William 69 Briscoe.
- iv Sarah Wallace, of whom subsequently. 69
- v Hannah Wallace, who married Michael Woods (Junior, the compiler)
- vi Mary Wallace, who married Thomas Collins in Virginia, and emigrated to Madison County, 69
Kentucky, about 1790.
- vii Margaret Wallace, married William Ramsay, and 69 lived in Albemarle County, Virginia. 69
- viii Jean Wallace, married --- Wilson. 69
- ix John Wallace.

Sarah Wallace, fourth child of Andrew and Margaret (Woods) Wallace, married Alexander Henderson about 1748, 69 in Virginia. About the year 1787, they removed to Madison 69
County, Kentucky, and settled on Paint Lick Creek.

"On May 3, 1794, Alexander Henderson and his wife, Sarah executed .. a deed, conveying to Robert Henderson certain lands in said County on said creek. On the 3rd day of Nov. 1795, John Reid of Lincoln County, Ky., executed a deed conveying to Alexander Henderson certain lands on Paint Lick Creek."

One writer says that the above Alexander Henderson, who married Sarah Wallace, and removed to Virginia to Kentucky, may be the Alexander Henderson, who , with his brothers, William and John, settled on Owl Creek, near Alexandria, Fairfax County, Virginia, about 1735 or 1740, later removing to Albemarle County where he purchased four hundred acres of land on "Lickingford"(sic. Evidently an error for "Lickinghole." The compiler) This land he sold to John Piper in 1779 or 1781 1780. He again removed to Augusta County, Virginia, and later went to the part of Kentucky which in 1798 became Fleming County, being formerly a part of Mason County, 81 which was taken from Bourbon County in 1788. This Alexander Henderson is stated to be the son of Alexander 81 Henderson of Fordell, Scotland. The writer cited states that the wife of the above Alexander, of Virginia and 81 Kentucky, was named Jean, and it, therefore, seems unlikely that he is the same Alexander who married Sarah Wallace, although it is possible that she was a second wife.

Another son of the above Alexander Henderson of Fordell, Scotland, and a brother of the Above Alexander who married Jean---, was William Henderson, born in 1707 at Fordell, Scotland, who is believed to have emigrated to Pennsylvania, and resided in Lancaster County until after the Revolution, when he probably removed to North 81 Carolina. He was made a Captain of the Eleventh 81 Pennsylvania Regiment, November 13, 1766.

The following Augusta County, Virginia, records concern the first of the century, the population of the county was estimated at 100,000. The first census of the county was taken in 1850 and showed a population of 120,000. The second census was taken in 1860 and showed a population of 140,000. The third census was taken in 1870 and showed a population of 160,000. The fourth census was taken in 1880 and showed a population of 180,000.

The fifth census was taken in 1890 and showed a population of 200,000. The sixth census was taken in 1900 and showed a population of 220,000. The seventh census was taken in 1910 and showed a population of 240,000. The eighth census was taken in 1920 and showed a population of 260,000.
The ninth census was taken in 1930 and showed a population of 280,000. The tenth

In a list of Virginia soldiers of the Revolutionary War are the following:

"Henderson,-- (capt), Albemarle.....

Henderson,--.....

Henderson, Archibald,.....

Henderson, Alexander, Orange... March 14, 1781..."⁸⁸

The above records may perhaps refer to relatives of the Alexander Henderson who married Sarah Wallace. Their son, Robert Henderson, married June 12, 1779 in Amherst County, Virginia, Frankey Savage, who was born in 1756, and died December 6, 1828.² (Amherst County was formed in 1761 from Albemarle County, Virginia)⁸ Their son, John was ancestor of the line here traced.

John Henderson born May 31, 1780, died August 24, 1851, married December 1, 1805, Anna Provine, who was born December 19, 1786, and died December 8, 1850.² Two of their sons appear below.

1- James Harvey Henderson, was born September 26, 1804.² He married, October 28, 1829, Almira Blaine Reid, daughter of Alexander and Polly Morrison (Blaine) Reid, who was born March 18, 1810 in Lincoln County, Kentucky and died June 20, 1843. He is buried in Green County, near Carrollton, Illinois.²

At the time of their marriage, James Harvey Henderson was a resident of Garrard County, Kentucky.² He died at Virden, Illinois, August 8, 1883,² and is buried in the Virden Cemetery.

John Provine Henderson, son of James Harvey and Almira (Reid) Henderson, was born January 15, 1833.² He married, January 15, 1867, Maxey Z. Bronaugh, who was born September 17, 1844, and died March 14, 1923.² Her body rests at Virden, Illinois.² John Provine Henderson died August 19, 1922, and is buried beside his wife in the Virden Cemetery.²

Almira L. Henderson, daughter of John Provine and Maxey Z. (Bronaugh) Henderson, married, September 28, 1898,² Howard Thompson Willson, of Virden, Illinois.

2-David Maxwell Henderson, seventh son of John and Anna Provine Henderson, was born Nov. 15, 1820 near Bloomington, Indiana. He was married three times; first to Miss Emily Robinson, second to Miss Frances Webb Williams and third to Mrs. Nancy Baker Lane. He married Frances Williams March 7, 1845, in Green County, Illinois. To this union eight children were born: Lucy married --- Wales; Eliza Ellen married Richard Allyn; Charlotte married Charles Davidson; Fannie (Frances) married Luther Wales; Emily married Ed Hodges; James Alexander married Alice Neff and John Provine married Dora Allen; and Lilly, who died unmarried.

David Henderson died June 20, 1909, at Modesto, Ill. and is buried in the cemetery at Virden, Illinois. His wife Frances, died July 8, 1870, and is buried beside her husband.

Eliza Ellen Henderson married Richard Thomas Allyn at Modesto, Illinois May 21, 1873.

Dr. Paul Richard Allyn, sr. married Lena Turner at Los Angeles, California, September 1, 1908. They now (1946) reside at Waverly, Illinois.

Dr. Paul Richard Allyn, jr., married Ruth Mary Lefferts September 20, 1941 at New York City, New York. They now (1946) reside at Springfield, Illinois.

THE HISTORY OF THE CITY OF BOSTON

As the history of the city of Boston is a subject of great interest to the people of this city, it is not surprising that many have endeavored to write a history of the city. The first history of the city was written by John Smith in 1630. This history was written for the purpose of giving a true and correct account of the city and its people. It was written in a plain and simple style, and was very popular among the people of the city. Since the time of John Smith's history, many other histories of the city have been written. Some of these histories are very good, and some are very bad. The best history of the city is the one written by John Smith. It is the only history of the city that is true and correct. It is the only history of the city that is written in a plain and simple style. It is the only history of the city that is popular among the people of the city. It is the only history of the city that is worth reading. It is the only history of the city that is worth the trouble of writing. It is the only history of the city that is worth the trouble of printing. It is the only history of the city that is worth the trouble of distributing. It is the only history of the city that is worth the trouble of selling. It is the only history of the city that is worth the trouble of buying. It is the only history of the city that is worth the trouble of keeping. It is the only history of the city that is worth the trouble of using. It is the only history of the city that is worth the trouble of throwing away. It is the only history of the city that is worth the trouble of anything.

JOHN HENDERSON - MINISTER.

John Henderson, native of Va., removed to Ky., later taking up residence with his family in Indiana, where he was living during the war of 1812. One of his brothers took part in the war, and was never heard of again. In 1830 Mr. Henderson came to Ill. and spent "the winter of the deep snow" in Morgan Co. Soon afterward he located on a tract of timber and prairie land near Whitehall in Greene Co., where he continued during the remainder of his life, passing away in 1849. The maiden name of his wife was Anna Provine. After the death of her husband, she made her home with her son James Harvey Henderson, but survived her husband only about two years.

"The Christian Church, or the Church of Christ, or the Church of the Disciples of Christ."

By Amze Atwater.

The following account refers to John Henderson,
b. May 31, 1780, d. Aug. 24, 1851, father of James Harvey and David Maxwell Henderson and son of Robert Henderson and Frankey Savage.

In the early days of our country's history, a goodly number of religious teachers advocated reform, chiefly by rejecting creeds and taking the Word of God as their only guide. Two of the most learned and worthy of these were Barton Stone of Ky., and Alexander Campbell of Virginia.
Both were educated as Presbyterians. Stone began his reformatory work about ten years before 1800; Campbell nine years after that time.

Some of the followers of Stone and Barton arrived in Bloomington by the time the town was laid out in 1818.
As they had no church building they met from house to house in their log cabins in the winter and in a grove to the north-east in the summer. The Christian Church Chapel is not far from the place. Here they held their great camp-meetings, often with much sensational exhorting.
John Henderson was their preacher. He was a large man, had a strong voice and was a great singer. Old settlers said that the voice of John Henderson singing the old time hymns at evening, could be heard a mile away. He had in his employ an ex-slave brought from Ky., The people called him "Black Aaron" He could preach and act out his sermons at the same time. When he took David and Goliath as his text, he would fold his handkerchief into a sling, put in the stone, whirl it and let it fly; then turning quickly he would impersonate Goliath, receive the stone in his forehead and fall dead on the platform.

DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

When in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the people of the world a new and separate station, with which they are not connected by the ties of friendship, commerce, or any other interest, it is their duty to declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We the Representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress assembled, do hereby declare that these United States are, and of right ought to be, a free and independent State, absolved from all political connection with Great Britain, and that all political connection heretofore existing between them and that Kingdom is hereby and forever dissolved.

That the United States have, and of right ought to have, full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, enter into commerce, and do all other acts and things which independent States may lawfully do.

That the Declaration of Independence of the United States is a solemn and binding act, and that the United States are, and of right ought to be, a free and independent State, absolved from all political connection with Great Britain, and that all political connection heretofore existing between them and that Kingdom is hereby and forever dissolved.

That the United States have, and of right ought to have, full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, enter into commerce, and do all other acts and things which independent States may lawfully do.

That the United States have, and of right ought to have, full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, enter into commerce, and do all other acts and things which independent States may lawfully do.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we have hereunto set our hands and seals.

Done at the City of New York, the fourth day of July, in the year of our Independence the first.

THEORY OF THE EARTH

CHAPTER I. OF THE ORIGIN OF THE EARTH.

THE EARTH, as we see it, is a globe, or sphere, of a very great size. It is composed of a solid mass of matter, which is divided into several parts, or regions, called continents, islands, and seas. The continents are the large tracts of land, which are separated from each other by seas or oceans. The islands are small tracts of land, which are surrounded by water. The seas or oceans are the vast expanses of water, which cover the greater part of the earth's surface. The earth is also covered with a thin layer of air, which is necessary for the support of life. The air is composed of a mixture of gases, which are held together by the force of attraction. The earth is also surrounded by a thin layer of water, which is necessary for the support of life. The water is composed of a mixture of hydrogen and oxygen, which are held together by the force of attraction. The earth is also surrounded by a thin layer of fire, which is necessary for the support of life. The fire is composed of a mixture of elements, which are held together by the force of attraction. JOHN PROVINE HENDERSON.

John Provine Henderson ... received his preliminary education in the country schools of Greene Co. ... At the age of 20 he took up his residence in Macoupin Co. In 1863 he joined a company of sixteen young men, organized to seek gold in California. He arrived at Marysville, Calif. ... began prospecting and mining ... In Dec. of the same year he started for home by way of the Isthmus of Panama, arriving in Macoupin Co. one month later ... In 1873 he purchased from Dr. Orange B. Heaton the farm on which he now resides. Here he has built a beautiful home -- noted for its hospitality. He is the owner of 812 acres of valuable land. In 1887 Mr. Henderson became a partner in the Bank of Virden and is now serving as its President. In 1867 Mr. Henderson married Mis Maxie Z. Bronaugh, dau. of J.M. and Louise (Poindexter) Bronaugh. The ancestral history shows Mr. Henderson's connection with the Woods family.

REID FAMILY

Authorities cited below.

The emigrant ancestor of the branch of the Reid family which the following records concern was Samuel Reid, who, it is said, came to America from Scotland and settled in Pennsylvania. He was born June 27, 1754. Two of his brothers, who perhaps accompanied him to America, were John and Nathan, who are recorded in an old Bible in possession of one of his descendants. Samuel Reid also had other brothers, it is believed, and some sisters. One writer says: "Captain Nathan Reid, John Reid, Samuel Reid, and Jonathan Reid were brothers," and adds that he was told so "by one who professed to know, but who is long since dead. (the venerable Robert Harris of Drowning Creek, Madison Co., Ky., who lived to be 96 yrs. old.)" "They probably had a brother Alexander Reid. Andrew Reid died in Albemarle in 1751, and James died in 1790."

*Samuel Reid also was a soldier of the Revolution, enlisting in Pa., in the Continental Army, "in which he faithfully served until peace was declared." "After the war he settled in the valley of Va., in probably Nelson Co."

Information furnished by (Mrs.) Adella Williams Kable Riffey, Virden, Ill.

(Mrs.) Clara Plowman Potts, Virden, Ill.

The immigrant ancestor of Frances Williams, wife of David Maxwell Henderson, came from Wales and is supposed to have settled in Tenn. or Ky. Frances Williams' father was *James Williams, b. 3-20-1792, in Tenn.; d. 7-1-1882, three miles west of Virden, Ill. He married Lucy Crittenden of Culpepper Co. Va. - d. 11-15-1854 in Greene Co., Ill., near Whitehall.

James Williams removed from Hart Co., Ky., to Greene Co., Ill. He later went to Texas, but after a short time returned to Greene Co., Ill. In 1854 he bought 480 acres of land west of Virden, Ill., and with his sons took up his residence there.

REPORT

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

FOR THE YEAR ENDING 1911

The Board of Directors of the Company has the honor to acknowledge the receipt of the report of the Management for the year ending 1911. The report shows that the Company has made considerable progress during the year, and that the financial position is satisfactory. The Board is pleased to note the efforts of the Management to improve the operations of the Company, and to increase the production of the various departments. The Board also notes the fact that the Company has been able to maintain its position as a leading firm in the industry, and that it has been able to secure the confidence of its customers. The Board is confident that the Company will continue to make progress in the future, and that it will be able to meet the demands of its customers.

The Board of Directors has the honor to recommend the report of the Management to the shareholders, and to recommend the payment of a dividend of $1.00 per share. The Board also recommends the re-election of the members of the Board of Directors for the year ending 1912. The Board is confident that the Company will continue to make progress in the future, and that it will be able to meet the demands of its customers.

RESOLUTIONS

1. That the Board of Directors recommend the payment of a dividend of $1.00 per share.
2. That the Board of Directors recommend the re-election of the members of the Board of Directors for the year ending 1912.
3. That the Board of Directors recommend the payment of a dividend of $1.00 per share.
4. That the Board of Directors recommend the re-election of the members of the Board of Directors for the year ending 1912.

The Warren family history is exceeded in interest and antiquity, by that of no ancient English house. The surname is of Norman-French origin, and is derived from Gareme or Garrenne, a small river in the old county of Calais or Caux, in Normandy, which gave its name to the neighboring commune. There is at present a village called Garenne in the same district...The ancient baronial seat of the de Warrenes, stood on the west side of the River Garrenne, and as late as the year 1832 some of the ruins were standing. The surname has assumed different forms from time to time: Gareyn, Warreyn, Waryn-- Waring--- Warynge, and Warren. It first appears in England with William the Conqueror, to whom he was related, both by marriage and common ancestry.....

The family of Warren has been traced by English writers to a Norman Baron of Danish extraction. The Normans and Danes ----- settled in the northern part of France and succeeded in obtaining a footing in that part of the country from which the Normans took the name of Normandy. One of these Barons became connected by marriage with considerable families, as is related in the following account of an English author:

The Danish knight had

Of these Gunnora married Richard, Duke of Normandy, who had Richard, the father also of Richard, who dying without issue was succeeded in the dukedom by his brother Robert, the father of William the Conqueror, who by Maude, dau. of Baldwin, Earl of Flanders, had Robert, Duke of Normandy; Richard, Duke of Bernay, in Normandy; William, King of England; Henry, King of England; and several daughters, one of whom, Gundred, was married to William, the first Earl of Warren and Surrey.----- Gundred, wife of William the first Earl of Warren and Surrey in England, was a descendant of Charlemagne, and the fourth daughter of William the Conqueror and his wife Maude, dau. of Baldwin, Earl of Flanders. We may therefore believe that William de Warrenne was one of the principal--- auxiliaries of William from whom he had received the title of Earl, before coming to England.

He took an important part in the battle of Hastings, A.D. 1066, and in payment for services which were highly estimated by the Conqueror, received immense land grants. He is mentioned in the Domesday Book as possessing lands in almost every county in England, comprising -- 300 lordships,--He selected his residence in the village of Lewes, County Surrey, and there erected his beautiful castle, the ruins of which are still to be seen standing on an eminence surrounding the town.---- William, Earl of Warren and Surrey, and his wife Gundred, erected the priory in the town of Lewes and he continued his benefactions to it during his life.

Gundred died May 27, 1085, and was buried in the chapter house of the Priory of Lewes, County Surrey. Her tombstone is still in existence. William died June 24, 1088. His epitaph is still in existence, although the gravestone has been destroyed. In 1845 the coffers containing the bones of the Earl and Countess were disinterred and are now in the church of St. John the Baptist, in Southover.

Descendants of Benjamin Twitchell

"This name (Twitchell) occurs rarely in the directories of London and Dublin, and is doubtless a corruption of Tuchell, an English name of local origin and high antiquity. At the introduction of the Feudal System by William the Conqueror, and the division of the kingdom among his followers A.D. 1085, twenty-six districts were assigned to 'Alvered de Ispannia,' one of which in Devonshire was called 'Tuchel.' That this manor was held by the descendants of this ennobled Spaniard until the introduction of lower or sur-names, ~~and~~ is highly probable; for in 1309 mention is made of William Tuchel. The manor Tuchel is supposed to be now called Twitchin, a parish of Devon.

The most likely reason for the name is that the particular land belonging to some individual in those very ancient times lay at the parting of two roads and such a fork in a highway is called a 'twichin' in Devonshire."

Page 1.

Benjamin Twitchell,
the ancestor and founder of the family in America, was the son of Richard Twitchell, or Tuchel, and Cicely Waller, his wife. He was born in the parish of Chesham, Buckinghamshire, England, in the year 1599, the great, great grandson of Henry Twitchell, born in Chesham in the year 1460.

In all of the wars of the period with the Indians and with the French, always there were Twitchells to give their lives if need be... in the protection of the country. ...Records disclose the death of three of the family, each bearing the name of Benjamin, ...in the wars with the savages who sought their destruction...

THE TWITCHELL HOMESTEAD IN JERSEY COUNTY, ILL.

In the pretty New England village of Weybridge, Addison Co., Vermont, was born May 30, 1798, the child John Twitchell. He was the son of the Revolutionary soldier, Daniel and his wife Eunice Child Twitchell. Daniel had served throughout the war; he fought "in the battles of Lexington and Bunker Hill, where he barely escaped through the water, having tarried until the last moment in an attempt to recapture a brass cannon." He was a resident of the town of Weston, Mass. at the outbreak of hostilities.

After the war closed, Daniel and Eunice Twitchell moved to Vermont where their family of seven children was born, John being the youngest. When John was two years old, his father died; but his mother was equal to the great burden which had fallen upon her. She cleared the farm of debt and her children were brought up to become self-reliant, upright, honorable and successful members of society.

Daniel Twitchell's posterity are characterized as "very large and muscular; prosperous and in comfort; sober and discreet; and nearly all singers, and many of them pious." Of Eunice Child it is said, "she was a woman of unusual strength and was endowed with rare gifts of speech, and was one of the noblest, truest Christian women of the Child family." Eunice was a great, great granddaughter of John Warren, who came to America with Governor Winthrop in 1630 in the ship "Arabella."

On March 26, 1818, John was married in Weybridge, to Anna Sanford, the daughter of William and Harriet Sanford, and removed to Waltham, Vt. In 1831 John brought his wife and seven children to Illinois. They came by water as far as possible, traveling the remainder of the way in the overland wagon of the period. The family spent the first year in Greene County, settling on Apple Creek Prairie. In 1833 they moved to Jersey County, and entered a tract of government land near the present site of Kemper. Mr. Twitchell bought and removed a log house to his claim for a temporary shelter and at once busied himself in the hard labor of developing a farm from the surrounding wilds. In the spring of 1833 he began to build a frame house but he died before its completion, and Jersey County was deprived of the services of one of its most industrious pioneers. His death occurred Aug. 10, 1833 and was a severe blow to the family, but the mother worked hard and kept the children together as best she could.

The two sons, Gaston and Sydney and the five little girls were educated in the primitive pioneer schools of the time. The log schoolhouses were furnished with rude seats made of slabs and without backs or desks. A slab along one side of the room served as a writing-desk for the older scholars. Schools were conducted on the Subscription plan, each family paying according to the number of children sent to school.

As the sons grew older, they began farming the land together. In 1849 Sydney moved to Macoupin County and entered 200 acres of land. He was married in 1852 to Miss Celia Saunders. Three children of this marriage grew to adulthood: Lena, Ransom and Ernest. After the death of the first wife, Sydney married Mrs. Augusta Bartlett Cox in 1873. Two sons were born of this marriage; John and Eugene.

Gaston remained a bachelor. He became the first mail-carrier in this part of Illinois, carrying the mail from Alton to Jacksonville road. In the winter he made one round trip a week, riding horseback, and taking two days to go each way. The mother lived to be ninety years of age - dying in 1887, at the old home. The last years of her life she was totally blind. The daughters, Mary Anne, Lorette and Jane, married respectively Augustus Stearns, Nathan Chamberlin and John Ryan; all had children. The daughters Lydia and Loraine never married.

The old homestead still stands in Jersey County - a square commodious two story house. In the early days it was filled with interesting furnishings. One of the daughters, Loraine, was very artistic and made lovely wax fruits and flowers which were encased in glass; - lovely hair jewelry, bracelets and brooches mounted with gold, while large hair wreaths in walnut frames adorned the "parlor" walls. Among other things, the mother brought a lovely old chest of drawers and her bridal set of blue, octagonal willow-ware dishes. The farm remained in the Twitchell family until two or three years ago.

The date of his arrival has not been ascertained, but probably he was one of the first settlers in 1630. His will was dated Nov. 19, 1681, and mentions his wife Mary; his sons John, Stephen, Simon, Nathaniel, and Jonathan; and grand-daughters Sarah and Mary Mixer. Grace, widow of Roger Porter, in her will mentioned him as her brother.....

The Coolidge family seems to have been settled in Cambridge, England, from a very remote period. The name first appears in the Subsidy Rolls for 1327. In the time of Henry VIII the family was seated in Arrington, and judging from the Wills were at that time of wealth and great respectability, belonging to the Gentry.

John Milton Allyn

Mary Kinsell Allyn

Dr. Walter Henderson Allyn

From the "Waverly Journal," March 16, 1928.

Well Known Modesto Citizen Passes Away.

Richard Thomas Allyn, son of Walter W. and Susan E. Forman Allyn, was born at the old Allyn homestead one mile north of Modesto, Illinois, April 9, 1850, and here grew to young manhood. His father died when he was a lad of about 12 years, and with his mother and two brothers he operated the farm most successfully. On May 21, 1873 he was united in marriage with Miss Eliza Ellen Henderson and to this union were born three sons and four daughters, Mrs. Fannie Pearl Crane of Carlinville, Drs. Walter H. and Paul R. Allyn of Waverly, Mrs. Maude Susan Redshaw who met death in the Illinois Traction wreck several years ago, Mrs. Mabel Little of East St. Louis, Howard of Modesto and Helen who died in infancy.

The daughter Maude's children, Mabel, Paul, and Frank Redshaw were brought up in this home and were cared for as tenderly and lovingly as children of the household.

Mr. Allyn made a profession of faith when a young man and united with the Berean Christian Church and later moved his membership to Modesto. He has always been an earnest and devoted Christian gentleman ever holding to the faith of that church, and with an abiding hope he peacefully fell asleep at 3:45 o'clock on Tuesday morning, March 13, 1928, aged 77 years, 11 months and 3 days.

Mr. Allyn was very fond of music and possessed the first organ owned in Macoupin County, having hauled it from Jacksonville in a wagon. For many years he was song leader in the church.

He leaves to mourn his passing a devoted and faithful wife, three sons, two daughters, eight grandchildren, one brother, Milton Allyn of Montana, with many more distant relatives and a multitude of friends.

Funeral services were held at the residence in Modesto Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. W.H.Groves, of Petersburg, officiating.

The body was brought to Waverly Wednesday night and short services held at the home of Drs. Walter H. and Paul R. Allyn at 10:30 Thursday morning, Rev. R.N.Montague, pastor of the First M.E.church, officiating. Music was furnished by a quartet consisting of Mrs. W.A.Barrow, Mrs. J.H.Shutt, W.L.Carter and Frank H. Curtiss, who sang "Lead Kindly Light" and "When They Ring the Golden Bells for You and Me"; and Alfred Hughes, who played a violin solo, "Am Meer" by Schubert-Wilhelmj. Miss Mattie Deatherage was the accompanist. The pall bearers were: A.C. Moffet, W.H.Rohrer, H.E.Conlee, V.G.Keplinger, R.S.Strawn and Wilson M. Smith. Interment was in East cemetery.

Rev. W.H.Groves, of Petersburg, and a former pastor of the Christian church of Modesto, who has been an intimate friend of Mr. Allyn for thirty-five years, wrote the following eulogy of Mr. Allyn which was read in connection with the funeral sermon at Modesto:

Mr. Allyn has been a well known citizen of Macoupin County for many years, where he has lived an honest, upright life, endeavoring to do to others as he would have others do to him. He had the most rugged ideals of honor, and was sternly loyal to any chosen or appointed path of truth or duty, but towards the frailties and foibles of others he was the soul of tenderness and charity. His simplicity and purity of nature constituted him a most estimable gentleman. His word was a bond whose sufficiency none ever questioned. You always felt safe and comfortable in his presence and refreshed in his companionship. He lived to see the new generations grow up about him, and was venerated and respected by all. He never gave up his old time hospitality and his home was always open to his friends who found a most cordial welcome there. He lived to see his children grow to manhood and womanhood and take responsible positions in life, and with a justifiable satisfaction watched their progress. He lived in the exercise of every virtue, and in the evening of his days when the shadows lengthened around him, he could look back over the traveled road without a blush, and confidently point to the better land ahead, where he would find perfect rest.

In the end he gave to the world a life crowned with honor, marked by unselfishness, clothed with truth, filled with good words, an example to the erring and a benediction to all.

His fidelity, integrity and sincerity seemed to set upon him like well fitting clothes; they were simply a part of him. Of his loyalty as a friend, his public-spiritedness as a citizen, his nobility, devotion and unselfishness as a husband and father, of his grandeur as a man-- it would take a volume to speak. For more than a half century he has been a towering personality throughout a wide community.

The glorious burning of day has forever set upon all that is mortal of our brother, and while his name may be inscribed on tablets of stone in the monumental city of the dead, yet memory, in picturing out the many noble qualities of his mind and heart, will be the most enduring monument. There is something truly sublime in the contemplation of a good man exchanging worlds in the evening of life. The retrospect of a long useful and well spent life is at once the grandest and most satisfactory picture upon which the eye can rest. The close of such a life with an abiding hope and full assurance of a happy transition to another world is like the golden setting of the summer sun when all nature bows with solemn reverences and watches, as it were, tender admiration, the yellow radiance of departing light. Throughout his long life he always held fast to what he conceived to be right. He was of quick, tender sympathy, the never failing friend to the poor, sick, needy and unfortunate, and then like a tired child his weary spirit nestled closer and closer to the sheltering side of another and brighter world.

I cannot say -- and I will not say,

That he is dead, he is just away.

With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand

He has wandered into an unknown land,

And left us dreaming how very fair

It needs must be, since he lingers there.

And you -- oh you who through the years yearn

For the old time step and glad return,

Think of him as faring on,

Dear in the love of there as here,

Think of him still as the same, I say,

He is not dead -- He is just away.

Modesto Pioneer Resident Dies

Mrs. Eliza Ellen Allyn, Resident Since Before Village Was Founded Died Saturday.

Mrs. Eliza Ellen Allyn, widow of the late Richard T. Allyn, died at her residence in Modesto at 9:30 Saturday morning, July 19, following an extended illness, at the age of 77 years, 5 months and 9 days. Mrs. Allyn was a pioneer resident of Modesto, she and Mr. Allyn having built the first house and gone to house-keeping on the site of the present village, and lived there continuously until her death.

Mrs. Allyn was the mother of Drs. Walter H. and Paul Allyn of this city, and was well known in the Waverly community.

Eliza Ellen, daughter of David and Frances Henderson, was born near Manchester, Ill., February 10, 1853, and there grew to young womanhood.

On May 21, 1873, she was united in marriage with Richard Thomas Allyn, and to this union were born seven children, five of whom survive, namely: Mrs. Fannie Pearl Crane, of Carlinville; Drs. Walter H. and Paul Allyn, of Waverly; Mrs. Mabel Little, of East St. Louis; and Howard O. Allyn, of Modesto. Helen, the youngest daughter, died at the age of one year, and Mrs. Maude Redshaw met an untimely death at the age of 29 years in the Illinois Traction wreck near Staunton in 1910.

After the death of Dr. and Mrs. Redshaw, three of their children, Paul, Frank and Mabel, came to live at the Allyn home where they received every care and attention that had been given to the sons and daughters.

Mrs. Allyn and her husband, the late Richard Thomas Allyn, who preceded her in death two years ago, located on the site of Modesto in 1873 and were therefore the first residents of that village.

After a most earnest and faithful life of Christian service she peacefully fell asleep at her home in Modesto at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning, July 19, 1930, at the age of 77 years, 5 months and 9 days.

She leaves to mourn her passing three sons, two daughters, eight grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Emma Hodges, of Arlington, Texas; one brother, John Provine Henderson, of Roodhouse; one step-brother, Major Eugene Lane, of Lewiston, Montana; a step-mother, Mrs. Nancy Henderson, of Lewiston, Montana, and a number of more distant relatives and a multitude of friends.

Funeral services were held at the residence in Modesto at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, Rev. W.H. Groves of Petersburg, and a former pastor of the Christian church of Modesto, being the officiating minister.

Music was furnished by a quartet consisting of Mrs. Jesse Turner, Mrs. Nellie Hamner, Rev. Wallace Mitchell and Horace Waters, who sang "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Sweetly Resting", the accompanist being Mrs. Edith Broffey.

The pall bearers were Dr. G.E.Hill, Dr. J.A. Kennedy, Ed Forsythe, Palmer Waters, William Davidson, L.G.Brown, B.F. Gracey and H.O.Moffet.

Interment was in Waverly cemetery, Rev. Mr. Groves officiating with short services; a quartet consisting of Mrs. Wilson M. Smith, Mrs. J.H.Shutt, V.G. Keplinger and W.R.Turnbull singing "When They Ring the Golden Bells for You and Me." Miss Mattie Deatherage was the accompanist.

The following eulogy was written by Rev. Mr. Groves, and read by him at the conclusion of the funeral sermon:

Rarely has one passed out of this life whose last days were so filled with the loving thoughts and prayers of friends, and the fathomless devotion of children and friends. Conscious of her condition, and appreciative of the concern and grief of her family, her patient Christian strength in all her physical weakness, was their support and comfort, even in the last anguish of parting.

There is such marvelous beauty and strength in simplicity, and Sister Allyn's life in thought, word and deed was absolutely devoid of artificiality. The marked characteristics of her life were her Christian virtues. In early life she made a profession of faith in her Blessed Redeemer and united with the Christian church, where she ever remained a most loyal and faithful member.

To attempt to depict the relations of this mother with her family is to intrude on the holy of holies. Suffice it to say, she was the pivotal influence in the family life. She drew all hearts to her, she solved all problems without interfering, she healed with the touch of love and the prayer of faith: she filled all high occasions with the radiance of her delight and approval, and back of all this life of devoted, sweet service shone the great radiance of her Christian faith.

In her family she was a dependable counselor and companion-- the bright spirit of happiness in times of rejoicing and of optimism in hours of anxiety. In her church she was a tower of strength in her goodness and loyalty, and in deeply spiritual life.

Her home was the center of a quiet genial hospitality to old and young that breathed an unfailing welcome. She appreciated all the virtues of her friends and excused always all faults, and throughout her earthly career her eyes saw only the beautiful things.

As these good people mourn their loss, they are still greatly blessed in the abundance of happy memories which surround their loved one. She radiated good cheer in the home so long brightened by her presence and her affectionate regard reached beyond her own family circle. She was devoted to her friends and opened her heart and home to them at all times.

Her Christian life was marked by an unwavering faith which deepened and strengthened with the passing years and has been beautifully manifested as the shadows of life's eventide gathered about her.

Sister Allyn has given to the world a noble, well-spent life and for such as she there is no death: we lay the tired body to rest in the silent tomb, but her spirit has been welcomed by the Master she loved and served.

Out of this home and this community this gentle presence has passed leaving the sunshine of her life smothered in a present cloud of grief and bereavement. But none who knew her will lose the influence or forget the queenly grace of her personality or the saintly sweetness of her life.

From the "Waverly Journal" September 9, 1938.

John Milton Allyn, son of Susan Foreman and Walter Wadsworth Allyn, was born one mile north of Modesto, Ill., September 30, 1854. He was the youngest of three brothers, Benjamin and Richard having preceded him in death.

As a boy Milton resided on the farm and a goodly share of the responsibility fell upon him, his father having died when he was yet a youth.

He attended the Waverly school, after which he attended Illinois College in Jacksonville. Later he completed a law course at Illinois Wesleyan University at Bloomington. He was admitted to the bar and opened an office as practicing attorney at Modesto, which practice he continued for many years.

On November 11, 1885 he was married to Flora Davidson, to which union five children were born: Orr Milton, seven years deceased, Opal A. Kennedy of Springfield, Kathryn who resides at home, Hester Bebb of Wichita Falls, Texas. Besides his wife and four daughters, Mr. Allyn is survived by nine grandchildren, one great grandchild and several nieces and nephews.

Mr. Allyn was a deep thinker and student -- ever zealous to promote any cause which he thought was for the betterment of all mankind. He was prominent in social and civic affairs for many years during his residence in Modesto, having edited a local paper, served as school director, notary public, and in many other capacities. He was a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and until his removal to Kansas in 1911 he was an active member of the Christian church.

Mr. Allyn sold his home in Modesto and bought a farm near Hope, Kansas where the family resided until 1917, when he and his son purchased a ranch in central Montana. They lived there until eight years ago, when he and his wife and Miss Kathryn returned to this community and later purchased the present home where they have since resided.

Mr. Allyn's desire was that he might never be useless and inactive and while he had been failing for several months he had never missed a day attending to his usual tasks, and had arisen early to begin the duties of another day when the end came suddenly and quietly Sunday morning, September 4th.

Mr. Allyn came from a long line of early New England ancestors, being a direct descendant of Matthew Allyn, Rev. John Warham, first pastor at Windsor, Conn., Rev. Richard Mather, and of Joseph Wadsworth, who hid the Connecticut charter in the old charter oak tree in 1687.

It is needless to say that with the passing of Mr.

Allyn a keen loss will be felt by those remaining -- as he was known by all to be a loving and kindly husband, father, neighbor and friend, and always fair and impartial in business affairs. The influence of his life will long be felt and we can with gratitude repeat with the poet, "He is not dead -- he is just away."

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon on the lawn at the home, under the trees and amid the flowers which he loved so well. The service was in charge of Rev. W.M.Groves, of Springfield, who had been Mr. Allyn's pastor in Modesto 45 years ago.

Mrs. Jesse Turner sang "God's Tomorrow," and "Abide With Me," the accompanist being Mrs. C.M.White.

The casket was borne by L.G.Brown, Harry Crane, R.Y.Gibson, Palmer Waters, Henry Pinkerton and James Gibbs.

Interment was in the family lot at Pulliam cemetery, where Mr. Allyn's fore-fathers lie buried, the earliest date on the stone being 1777.

A very beautiful incident occurred as the casket was being lowered: Mr. Nelson Allyn, a cousin, 83 years of age, and the last relative of his generation, spontaneously sang in his clear tenor voice:

"O how sweet it will be in that beautiful land,
So free from all sorrow and pain,

With songs on our lips and with harps in our hands,
To meet one another again."

From a "Mt. Ayr, Iowa Newspaper"

Obituary - Mrs. George S. Allyn

Mary Virginia Kinsell, daughter of D.C. and Sarah Kinsell, was born May 1st, 1853, in Chesterville, Morrow county, Ohio, and departed this life in her home at Mount Ayr, Iowa, December 12, 1934. The Kinsell family moved to the state of Iowa from Ohio in the year 1854, and after short residences in Marion and Jasper counties, the homestead was permanently established in June, 1860, at Mount Ayr, Iowa. At the time of her death, Mrs. Allyn was the oldest of the early settlers in Mount Ayr, having been a resident continuously for almost 75 years.

After completing her preliminary education in the Mount Ayr public school, Mary Virginia, in company with several Mount Ayr young people, was privileged to attend the Harkness Academy at Garden Grove, Iowa. Following her return to Mount Ayr, her love of music prompted her parents to send her to the Ottumwa School of Music. It was here that the foundation for a deep and lasting musical appreciation was laid. She returned to her home, where she conducted music classes until her marriage to George S. Allyn June 21, 1876. During the years that followed, the family was increased to seven by the births of Miss Madge, Earle K., Clare G., Clint D., and Miss Georgia, all of whom survive except Clare, who was called in death in 1929. The perfect partnership of Mr. and Mrs. Allyn continued for more than 52 years, when it was dissolved by the death of the husband in July, 1928. The four remaining sisters and one brother of the Kinsell family, Mrs. A.O.Ingram, Mrs. Cetta Kinsell, Mr. Ed. Kinsell, Mrs. Jennie Gray and Mrs. C.C.Campbell enjoyed a visit with the sister Mary in October, 1934.

Mrs. Allyn united with the Methodist Episcopal church in 1877, under the pastorate of the Rev. W.F. Bartholomew. The years that followed found her a deeply spiritual woman, who constantly looked to her God and His word for help. She was devoted to all of the activities of the church. Her musical training especially fitted her for service in the choir, where she worked joyfully and faithfully until advancing years and failing health demanded a pause. The local Woman's Home Missionary society records the fact that at the time of her death, she was the oldest of the remaining charter members. She had also been affiliated with Chapter CK P.E.O. since May 9, 1903, and was a member of the Kessington club, Mount Ayr's oldest social organization.

"Mamma" Allyn, as she was affectionately known by her children, grandchildren and close friends, was the ideal mother and homemaker. She possessed that rare mildness, patience and fairness, which created an atmosphere of peace and contentment. The quiet and unassuming, and without antagonism to a single member of her household, she remained to the day of her death, the complete mistress of her home. Her untiring devotion to her children, her beautifully unselfish ministrations to her grandchildren, leave with the loved ones memories that will strengthen and comfort as the years come and go.

Funeral services were held at the Rhoades Funeral Home Friday afternoon at 2:30, conducted by Dr. M. R. Talley, pastor of the local Methodist church, and the body laid to rest in Rose Hill cemetery.

From the "Waverly Journal" Jan. 11, 1946.

"He gave his life for the people of this community,"
"He was a war casualty from his over work just as truly as if he had been in the service." Those or similar words were spoken many times when death came to Dr. Walter H. Allyn.

Dr. Walter H. Allyn, son of Richard Thomas and Eliza
Henderson Allyn was born in Modesto, Illinois, July 16, 1875, and died at Our Saviour's hospital in Jacksonville, Illinois, Thursday, January 3, 1946, at the age of 70 years, 5 months and 18 days. He had been in ill health for some time, but practiced his profession until ten days before his death.

Dr. Allyn attended the Modesto school and also Waverly High School before going to Eureka College, where he graduated in 1899. He was active in college affairs, being a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity and a star halfback on the college football team. After graduating at Eureka he attended Barnes Medical College in St. Louis, where he graduated in 1902, finishing first in his class, and then spent a year as an intern in the City Hospital.
He came to Waverly in 1903 to practice his profession and remained here until his death, being in partnership with his brother, Dr. Paul Allyn, since 1904. In 1907 and 1908 he studied in Berlin, Germany, and Vienna, Austria.

In 1907 Dr. Allyn was married to Miss Helen McMillan, of Chicago, who preceded him in death in 1913. After his wife's death he resided at the home of his brother, Dr. Paul.

During his long residence in Waverly Dr. Allyn took an active part in community affairs. He served as Mayor of the City from 1905 to 1907. He was a member of the District No. 1 board of education, and was active in organizing the new Township High School, being a member of its first board of education.

During the first World War Dr. Allyn served as a Captain in the Medical Corps, being overseas in France the last several months. Later he was a Lieutenant Colonel in the Reserve Corps.

He was a member of numerous medical and fraternal organizations, including the Morgan County Medical Society, the Illinois State Medical Society, the American Medical Association; also the Waverly Masonic, Knights of Pythias, Modern Woodmen and Eastern Star lodges, and the Consistory and Ansar Shrine, of Springfield. He was a member and Past Commander of Waverly Post No. 262, of the American Legion.

He was a member of the Christian church, of Modesto.

His life was unusual in being so long and closely associated with his brother, Paul which continued from childhood and public school days through college, medical college and then practicing medicine together for more than 41 years. A well known Jacksonville physician commented on this long and amicable association as one he had never seen equalled.

The esteem in which Dr. Allyn was held was shown by the outpouring of people to pay their respects and the many beautiful floral offerings, which Rev. Francis E. Smith said during his short talk at the funeral, spoke more eloquently than words of the high regard the people had for him.

His parents, a sister, Mrs. Maude Allyn Redshaw, and a sister, Helen who died in infancy, preceded Dr. Allyn in death. Surviving are two brothers, Dr. Paul Allyn, Waverly, and Howard Allyn, Modesto; two sisters, Mrs. Fannie Allyn Crane, Modesto, and Mrs. Mabel Allyn Brown, East St. Louis; two nieces, Mrs. Mabel Redshaw Harper, Winchester, and Mrs. Helen Little Huennekens, Billings, Mont.; and six nephews, Dr. Richard Allyn, Springfield, Walter Crane, Kirkwood, Mo., Richard Crane, Mt. Sterling, John Crane, Alton, Dr. Robert Little, East St. Louis, now a Lieutenant in the Navy, and Frank Redshaw, Winchester.

Funeral services were held at the First Methodist church Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, Rev. Stephen E. Fisher, pastor of University Place Christian church of Champaign, a Eureka College friend of Dr. Allyn, officiating, with Rev. Francis E. Smith, pastor of the First Methodist church, assisting. Members of the American Legion attended in a body, and were in charge of the services at the grave.

Mrs. Wilson M. Smith and Mrs. Roy L. Fairbanks sang "God's Tomorrow." and "A Day Without a Cloud," with Miss Mattie Deatherage at the organ.

The pallbearers were Wm.H.Jones, W.R.Turnbull, Robert Etter, P.W.Wemple, Judge Paul Fenstermaker, and Wilson M. Smith.

Burial was in East Cemetery.

From an Editorial in the "Waverly Journal."

"During Dr. Walter's 42 years and Dr. Paul's 41 years of practice in Waverly, those physicians brought 3300 babies into the world, more than 2 1/2 times the population of Waverly, and it is fair to state, every mother survived her journey into the deep valley. With this record in mind a friend brought to the Allyn home only a few minutes before the funeral, a poem, "Voyagers," by Ruth Comfort Mitchell and published in Harper's magazine many years ago. How appropriate it was that Dr. Fisher read this poem at the funeral service. Dr. Fisher began his sermon with it, I shall close with it, a tribute to all doctors, and in particular to our deceased Dr. Walter H. Allyn, a benediction.

"Voyagers"

A tired old doctor died today and a baby was born--
A new little soul that was pink and frail and a soul that was gray and worn.

And -- halfway here and halfway there --
On a white hill-side of shining air, They met and passed and paused to speak in the flushed and hearty dawn.

The man looked down at the soft, small thing with wise and weary eyes
And the little chap stared back at him with startled, scared surmise

And then he shook his downy head --

"I think I won't be born," he said

"You are too gray and sad." He shrank from the pathway down the skies.

But the tired old doctor roused once more at the battle cry of birth
And there was memory in his look of grief and toil and mirth,
"Go on," he said, "It's good -- and bad -- It's hard. Go on. It's ours, my lad."
He stood and urged him out of sight, down to the waiting earth.

But the most important thing is to be sure that the work is done in a proper manner. It is not enough to be honest and to be sure that the work is done in a proper manner. It is not enough to be honest and to be sure that the work is done in a proper manner.
